THE SECOND LAP.

Ministers have reached the Whitson adjournment with their business in a fair state of correspondence with the calendar (says the "Pall Mall Gazette"). Their principal measure is through Committee only as far as the first clause; but the earliest freshness of debate has been rubbed off, some inflammatory questions have been disposed of, and, considering the as history of Education Bills in the House of Commons, the progress achieved cannot, in a party sense, be called disappointing. While the Finance Bill has left the Committee stage, and the Merchant Shipping and Workmen's Compensation Bills are well on their journey, the further progress of Mr. Birrell's measure is as it is in one direction by a cunning arrangement of the Ministerial programme. The object of this Session, as far as the Labour members are concerned, is the safe passage of the Trade Disputes Bill; and, since they have been told that it cannot resume its place on the Order-paper until the Education Bill is past its most difficult stage, they have a strong inducement to confine their criticism of Mr. Birrell's proposals within the narrowest limits. A favourable bulletin on the state of Parliamentary business is to be expected in the first Session of a Government which enjoys such a numerical preponderance in the House of Commons, and if Ministers have done anything to reinforce these advantages of position, their contribution has been of a kind to inspire cynicism rather than respect. The Prime Minister, as a Parliamentary leader, builds upon the qualities of his defects. He is less particular about where he goes than about taking his majority along with him. If he can propitiate all sections of his supporters by conceding a Bill here and conferring a Royal Commission there, it does not trouble him that the resultant policy is disguised by no particular traits of principle or justice. A cold-blooded calculation of winds and currents is the only feasible explanation of much that Ministers have said and done since their accession to office. It is the only theory that can show how an electioneering zeal for religious equality transmutes itself into the Education Bill, or account for a financier who is enthusiastic for the reduction of debt squandering his surplus in minute doles amongst a crowd of importunate petitioners.

This ignoble policy of catching every available breeze has had one result which there is no reason to deplore. Since the opening of the Session Ministers have awakened somewhat to the strength and importance of that Imperial sentiment which they did their utmost to flout and disparage in the first blush and pride of their electoral victory. Mr. Churchill, who knows no moderation, is now "touting" for Colonial support with as little measure as he formerly showed in his arrogant lectures on morality. The Government have been somewhat roughly shaken out of their parochial superiority by the significant resentment of the alienated Colonies, and by the ridiculous upshot of their sham philanthropy. The Radical who finds that the British settler regards him as an enemy and that the Chinese coolie will have nothing to do with him as a friend, may well wonder what function he himself has been created to serve in the economy of a plaguey Empire. It is all to the good, at any rate, that Ministers have taken warning, if only in their own interests, from the ominous signs of resentment at their earlier arrogance. Mr. Churchill, after awakening to a sudden enthusiasm for Lord Solborne, has actually got the length of a friendly interest in the Colonial Conference. He assured an assembly of Australians last week that it was to be "a free and unfettered Conference," and that its only object would be "to foster and develop everything that could make for the larger unity of the Empire." It was a little ingenious to go on from this to remark that the Colonies should not "identify themselves with any one particular set of political opinion in this country." As long as Colonial interests are dependent to some extent on the action of English parties, colonists may be excused from holding an impartial view of politicians who charge them with slave-owning, with wanton warfare, and with judicial murder. A party cannot atone for insult and injury combined by a few gracious platitudes of after-dinner beneficence. "What could be more foolish and idiotic on their part," says Mr. Churchill for his Government, "than to go out of their way to give offence and to cause irritation to those great self-governing and democratic communities?" What, indeed! We may be only too glad that the question has presented itself to Ministers in this form, even if it arises from humiliating experiences instead of from a spontaneous instinct of common sense and political foresight. No one will complain if the time comes when a British colony can look to all parties with the same confidence for the honour, sympathy, and fair play which are the common rights of citizenship in the Empire. But the way will have to be paved with more substantial tokens of sincerity than the facile tergiversations of Mr. Winston Churchill.

Smuggler Caught.

The Coast Guards yesterday confiscated a parcel of hashish which a Turk was attempting to smuggle through gate No. 1 on the Marina.

Coal Imports.

The imports of coal from January 1 to June 7 amounted to 566,890 tons, as compared with 383,324 tons during the same period last year.

Address.

An address will be given to-morrow (Sunday) at 10 a. m. at the Waslyan parade service in the church room of the Sailors and Soldiers' Institute, on "What is the essential Creed of Christians?"

Canned Goods.

Egypt imports on a yearly average 1,250,000 kilogrammes of smoked and preserved meat, representing a value of L. E. 70,000. Of this, America exports some 30,000 kilos, valued at about L.E. 1,800.

Cotton Crop.

In the Bahera province we understand that the cotton crop has been adversely affected by the recent cold weather. Cotton worm has appeared in several places, especially in Abou Hommos and Kafr Dawar Markazes.

Defective Rolling Stock.

The rolling stock on the Upper Egypt line of the State Railways seems slightly defective. Yesterday's Luxor express arrived at Cairo over two hours behind time. It seems that the engine had to be changed twice en route.

The Prinz Regent.

Capt. the Hon. J. Yarde-Buller, A. D. C. to the Duke of Connaught, has sent the following letter to the German East Africa Company in reference to the recent journey made by the Duke and Duchess of Connaught on the company's S.S. Prinz Regent:—"Dear Sir, I am requested to inform you that everything was most comfortable on board the Prinz Regent and that T. R. H. the Duke and Duchess of Connaught were in every way satisfied with the arrangements. At the same time I am desired to tender to the company T.R.H.'s best thanks."

The Weather.

Messrs. R. J. Moss and Company's remarks about the weather in their weekly circular are generally interesting. This week we learn that the weather during the week was "quite June and waxing warm. Should the heat increase its present abnormal ratio—it may reasonably be expected that pyrometers will take the place of the old-fashioned thermometer. Average temp. for the week 72.0 F. or 22.2 C., Max. 93.2 F. or 34.0 C., on 7th inst.; Min. 63.5 F. or 17.5 C., on the 1st inst. Humidity: average for the week 73%. Max. 6th inst. 90%. Min. 5th inst. 10.4%."

"Aida" played by Darkies.

Vardi's evergreen opera Aida was performed in New York a few days ago by an all-negro company. According to the "Herald," all the "first families" in the negro residential quarters of the city turned out for the "première" of the grand opera week at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, where the opera was given by Mr. Theodore Drury's all-negro company. Basically, says the "Herald," the aggregation need not worry Mr. Corried or Mr. Hammerstein, but the boxes with décolleté maids and matrons in sunset silks and satins, chattering during the performance, "à la metropolitan society," was unaccountably as good a "take-off" on the fashionable season as one would want to see.

Mex. Casino and Baths.

With the arrival of the hot weather, the outward tide to Mex has set in. As already announced, Mr. Geo. Prince has taken over the management of the casino, baths, the annexed restaurant, and Syren Island. A number of improvements have been carried out, which will greatly increase the comfort and attractions of the establishment. The baths are already open and bathers are patronising them in crowds. The cafe-restaurant is also largely patronised, and deservedly so. A selected orchestra has been engaged to play on the terrace of the casino. Mr. Prince feels certain that the improvements he has carried out will meet with the approbation of his numerous clients.

An Experience.

People who leave, and they are numerous in Egypt, have often to complain, resulting from the ignorance of the languages of the countries through which they pass; Italy, Austria, Germany, England, according to the case. Waste of time, waste of money, that one can only easily avoid by following the classes at the Berlitz School: (Alexandria, 12, Rue Rosette; Cairo, 1, Sharia Kamel.) Trial lesson, free. [ADVT.]

NO DESIRE FOR REPATRIATION.

LONDON, June 8.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.—During the debate, Mr. Churchill admitted that the fact of there being only twelve applicants for repatriation showed that there was no general desire on the part of the Chinese on the Rand to return, but this did not justify the perpetuation of the system. (Reuter)

SAD DEATH OF E.T.C. CLERK.

We have received the following account of the death of a popular member of the Eastern Telegraph Company's staff, Mr. A. B. Collier, who only recently was transferred from Alexandria to Zanzibar:—

An accident, resulting in the death of Mr. A. B. Collier, of the E. T. C. Staff, occurred at Prison Island on Sunday, April 29. Mr. Collier with three colleagues went over to the island for a week-end and Sunday afternoon he and two of his friends were bathing off the sandy spit at Prison Island, the place where it is usual to land. A rowing boat was anchored on the north side of the beach in shallow water, a short distance from the shore. Collier remarked to one of his companions, "See me dive under that boat." Taking a long run he dived into the water but must have struck the sandy bottom with his head as he came to the surface half-way between the water's edge and the boat, face downwards. His friends immediately went to his assistance and hauled him out. He was quite limp and unconscious, but after being rubbed he came round for a few moments. During this time he understood what was said to him, but was unable to reply except by signs. He was carried up to the bungalow, but in spite of everything that could be done did not recover consciousness again and his pulse stopped at 5.30 p.m. Dr. Thompson, of the Amber, arrived on the scene half an hour after the occurrence. He considered death to have been due to fracture of the base of the skull.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon at 4.30 p.m., the service being conducted by the Rev. Godfrey Dale. The body was followed to the English cemetery by Mr. Robinson, Mr. Hardwick, and the staff of the E. T. C. Captain Drake and officers of the S. C. Amber, Mr. Basil S. Cave, C.B., H.B.M.'s Agent and Consul-General, M. Paul Ottavi, Consul for France, Judge Lindsey Smith, and a number of other European residents. One of his Highness the Sultan's carriages filled with wreaths and crosses followed behind the procession.

Alfred Bertram Collier was born on Nov. 10, 1882. He was a fine swimmer and a noted diver; good at football and cricket, and very popular throughout the service. Much sympathy and sorrow has been expressed by Zanzibar at this sad termination of a promising career.

KHEDIVIAL DECORATIONS.

H.H. the Khedive has conferred the grade of Mirmiran on Youssef Pacha Abou Gazieh, a notable of Gharbieh; and of the Sanieh on Yacoub Bey Sabri Ghali, son-in-law of H.E. Boutros Pacha Ghali, Minister for Foreign Affairs; the same grade on Ahmed Bey Fahmi, of Cairo, Baiyoumi Bey Zikri, of Kaloubieh, Ibrahim Bey Fahmi, of Shihin-El-Kom, Mohamed Bey Yagan, son of H.E. Ismail Pacha Yagan; and Ismail Bey Khashaha, of Cairo.

His Highness has also conferred the Order of the Medjidieh (2nd class) on Mohamed Pacha Hassan, manager of the Daira of H.H. Prince Mahmoud Pacha Hamdi, and the 4th class of the same Order on M. Luigi, the Italian Vice-Consul at Tantah.

A STRANGE TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

New Zealand, Egypt and the United States are a strange triple alliance. Yet these three countries, so widely separated in every sense, stood alone at the international postal convention at Rome in favour of a universal 2-cent postal rate. New Zealand, probably the most radically progressive country on the globe, has long favoured reduction in international postage rates. The United States was a natural ally. But Egypt! The support of the African nation in a movement along the lines of almost revolutionary advancement was the astonishing feature. (American paper.)

The S.S. City of Perth (Westcott and Laurence Line) left Malta yesterday and is due here next Tuesday, with general cargo from Antwerp and London.

BOUNDARY COMMISSION.

PROGRESS OF ITS LABOURS.

A hitch which had arisen concerning measurements of the 3-mile limit from Akaba is responsible for some delay in the progress of the work of delimitation. The difficulty has been overcome, however, and in a great measure owing to the intervention of Ruchdi Pacha, of Akaba fame, who exerted himself in favour of a more accommodating attitude on the part of the Turkish delegates.

It can reasonably be hoped now that with the settlement of the most controversial point in the task of the commission its labours will come to a satisfactory end in a short time.

EGYPT AND TURKEY.

Dr. Jevdet Bey, the popular Turkish author, editor of the review "Idjitihad," publishes an article on the Tabah dispute from which we extract the following:—

Mohamedans were surprised at and irritated by England's threats to Turkey over the question of "the frontier between two Ottoman vilayets." How can they deceive themselves? Egypt is not ours—not our property. Note well, fellow-Moslems, if we are to remain acquiescent in our present weakness and ignorance no territories will be likely to remain in our possession, and not only is our rule over our own country doomed, but all our provinces will pass one after another into the hands of foreign Powers. You ask, By what right does England occupy Egypt? I venture to give the reply: England occupies the Nile Valley by the same rights as those we possessed three centuries ago when we occupied this country. The Moslems must know the truth and cease to shut their eyes in order not to behold it. The wise and strong conquer the weak and ignorant. This is the law of the world. If you wish your rights to be preserved, and your country protected, strengthen and enlighten yourselves by means of science and improved education, and get rid of the useless pride in your forefathers' glories, which now brings you no benefit. Let us be real Moslems in deed and word united in interest and sympathy. Other nations will then esteem us, and our enemies become our friends.

DEPARTURE OF WORCESTERS.

The 4th Battalion Worcestershire Regiment paraded at 9.45 this morning, and marched down from Mustapha to the quays, where they embarked on the R.I.M.T. Dufferin, which left about 1 p.m. for Malta. The battalion was accompanied for part of its way by the band of the Royal Dublin Fusiliers.

Great regret is expressed at the departure of the regiment for Malta.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

Suez, Friday.

While the cable-ship Silvertown was coming to her anchorage at daybreak this morning, she mistook the beacons in the Suez Bay and grounded badly on the shoal. Owing to the rocks, it is feared she sustained some damage.

At daylight she signalled for a tug, and at high tide the tug Titan was unsuccessful in getting her off. So far, her position is unchanged.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

The Legislative Council met this morning in Cairo and discussed the project of the Khedivial edict entitling officials to appeal against Markaz Court judgments, as the Parquet officials are entitled to do.

BUILDING IN KHARTOUM.

The "Sudan Times" states that the price of labour and of building materials has risen largely, but building continues without abatement owing to the strict application of the law obliging purchasers of sites to build within a given time limit. The workmen, on the other hand, are in many cases leaving Khartoum to look after their crops.

COMPANY LAW IN EGYPT.

THE GOVERNMENT AND FOUNDERS' SHARES.

A correspondent writes:—While it may be urged that a law regulating the issue of founders' shares has not been found necessary in England, and it is therefore a work of supererogation in Egypt, I should like to point out that public opinion in Egypt is so uneducated in all matters connected with finance that the comparison between Cairo and the City falls to the ground. It seems to me the obvious duty of the Government to educate public opinion here by the publication of decrees, etc., relating to all the branches of company promotion, and in this context I should like to point out that, as far as I can discover, the Company Law of 1899, after its promulgation, was never republished in a form accessible to the general public.

Two essential clauses stand prominently out from the body of the latest decree. One, and that the most important, forbids the negotiation of Founders' shares until two years after issue. With this I am in absolute agreement. In too many cases company promoters have counted—and not to their cost, on manipulating Founders' shares with a view to landing them on an untried public long before anyone could form any appreciation of their real or potential value. In future the public, when the Founders' shares come on the market, will have had time to study the results of two years' work. It may then feel itself justified at buying them at a premium—or it may decline, reflecting that all is not gold that glitters.

The wisdom of the clause that restricts permission to issue Founders' shares to companies exploiting an invention or Government concession the precise value of which cannot be estimated, seems to me open to question. It is easy to imagine cases in which the issue of Founders' shares is more justifiable than in the cases referred to above.

Personally I cannot resist the conviction that it might have been wiser to leave the decision as to the case in which the issue was permissible to the good judgment of the Government's advisers.

Finally I must express the hope that the Government will allow no exceptions to its rules. The Law of 1899, I believe, forbade the issue of shares at a premium, except to cover expenses of flotation or to serve the company's reserve fund. But the issue at a premium of £2 of the shares of the Bank of Abyssinia was surely not covered by this exception, and the action of the Government in permitting this created a bad impression on European markets.

The devices of the promoter are numberless and it is quite possible that in the near future he will have learnt how to drive an arabia and pair through the decree under discussion. Though I do not intend to spoil sport by making any suggestions.

In the interest of the public and of sound finance in general I think it is high time for the Government to revise and elaborate the whole Company Law of this country.

THEATRE ALHAMBRA.

Hier, première de Dalla Terra alla Luna. C'est encore une surprise de la troupe Lombardo, nous avions déjà vu par la Geisha et il Diavolo in Corpo jusqu'où pouvait aller son soin de la mise en scène, des décors et costumes mais la représentation d'hier dépasse sur ce point tout ce qui a été donné.

Le thème de la pièce est trop connu pour que nous en donnions un aperçu à nos lecteurs, nous nous contenterons de parler de l'interprétation.

Mlle Baldi, dont nous avons applaudi la jolie voix, la grâce et le jeu de scène dans nombre d'opérettes et spécialement dans la Geisha a tenu son rôle à la perfection; très applaudie dans le duo de la Pomme chanté avec Mlle Montis.

Mlle Montis a une réputation acquise sur les grandes scènes européennes qui la dispense de toute critique, le rôle du Prince Caprice lui allait à merveille et elle l'a rempli avec le brio et la grâce dont elle est coutumière.

M.M. Piracini et Urbano ont été comme toujours, desopilants, apportant le sourire sur les lèvres dès leur entrée en scène, sourires qui se transforment bien vite en fou rire.

Les ballets ont été très bien enlevés.

Nous avons dit plus haut ce que nous pensions des décors et des costumes; une mention spéciale est pourtant due au deuxième tableau. "Les pommes lumineuses" qui était merveilleux.

En résumé excellente soirée toute à la louange du metteur en scène et des interprètes. Dalla Terra alla Luna est une pièce à voir.

TRIAL LESSON

ARMY AND NAVY.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).

London, May 31.

Captain A. H. Symes-Thompson, who was recently serving with the U Battery R. F. A., now at Cairo, has been appointed adjutant of the 2nd Brigade R. F. A., Leeds.

Captain C. D. A. B. S. Baker-Carr, M.V.O., Rifle Brigade, who was latterly employed as an assistant instructor at the School of Musketry, Hythe, has taken his retired pay, and a captaincy in the Imperial Yeomanry. He served with the "Greenjackets" in the Nile Expedition, 1898, and in the late South African War, including the fighting into Ladysmith, and he was with the Mounted Infantry in various operations in the succeeding campaign.

It is not intended to replace the Inniskilling Dragoons in Ireland by another cavalry regiment till after the close of the present trooping season.

It would seem that the War Office is in earnest in connection with the proposed reduction of the Royal Field Artillery. It is authoritatively stated that no fewer than 45 batteries have been earmarked for reduction, so that the R. F. A. will be cut down to its proportions prior to the Boer War. In service circles this decision is condemned unanimously, and the scheme of replacing these batteries by militia batteries is pronounced to be the dream of a faddist. Its effect on promotion is too apparent to be pointed out.

It is intimated that men of the Royal Garrison Artillery of the under-mentioned categories of service may be transferred to the Army Reserve on conversion of service, provided that they can obtain guaranteed employment: (a) All men enlisted for 7 years with the colours, provided that they have not extended, and have completed 6 years' service; (b) all men extended to complete 8 years, who have now over 6 years' service; (c) all men extended to complete 12 years, who have now over 10 years' service. The classes (b) and (c) who take advantage of this concession will not be required to pay the sum of £10 as laid down in the Royal Warrant, 1906.

Amongst other changes about to be instituted in infantry on home service is that each will have its own self-trained section of mounted infantry, and a proportion of the infantry will carry miniature entrenching tools—spade and pick—attached to the waist-belt. During the forthcoming field operations at Aldershot and Salisbury Plain, the utility of these tools will be thoroughly tested.

A Parliamentary paper recently gives details of the strength of the British fleet as compared with the fleets of the United States, Italy, Russia, Germany, France and Japan. It shows that we have 55 battleships of the first class—England builds nothing else—against the 82 of the Powers named. France follows England with 19; Germany is a good third with 18. We stand well with regard to cruisers, having 114. Both battleships and cruisers are up to date, whilst not a few of the other Powers are a bit antiquated. In ship building programme, England does not stand so well. The number of battleships on British stocks is half a dozen, compared with eleven building for the United States, six each for France and Germany and a like number for Italy and Japan. In armoured cruisers our position is better, as we have ten building, against eight in the United States. The Germans are building half a dozen protected cruisers, a type of ship which is not so much in favour in the British navy.

BILIOUSNESS

Biliousness (or bilious attacks) needs little description to the unfortunate sufferer. Food cannot be retained, the tongue is furred, there is a bitter taste in the mouth, the head throbs and aches; the patient is constipated, exceedingly weak, depressed and miserable. Doan's Dinner Pills will give relief in a few hours, but the sufferer should assist the medicine by taking rest, keeping quiet, and avoiding worry. During an attack, abstinence from food and alcoholic stimulants is desirable.

Those subject to biliousness should pay careful attention to diet and avoid fatigue, anxiety, and exposure to cold. After too heavy a meal, one Doan's Dinner Pill will ward off any ill after-effect by giving the digestive organs, the liver and bowels the additional help they need. The medicine should always be kept handy, and a dose taken whenever you find your food "repeating" or disagreeing with you.

Doan's Dinner Pills are Nature's own medicine for liver, bilious, and all stomach troubles. They are made from pure roots and herbs which act gently and in harmony with Nature, driving out the clogging impurities, allaying inflammation and irritation, and restoring a regular and natural action to the liver, bowels and digestive system, without griping. Doan's Dinner Pills are the best medicine for biliousness, indigestion, constipation, for headache, retching, dizziness, distress after eating, poor appetite, yellow eyes, heartburn, wind, etc.

Doan's Dinner Pills are sold by all chemists and druggists at 6 P.T. per box, or 50 P.T. for 6 boxes; or they may be had direct from the general agent for Egypt, Max Fischer, Mousky Street, Cairo.

OTTOMAN NOTES.

BY XENOS.

H.E. MARSHAL RIZA PACHA, Ottoman Minister of War, has, we regret to learn, been indisposed for some time past, and has been confined to his apartments.

ANOTHER ILLUSTRIOUS INVALID is the Metropolitan of Derkon, Mgr. Kallinikus, who, however, is now convalescent, and will soon be able to resume his high office.

THE ORTHODOX METROPOLITAN of Nazareth is now in Constantinople, and accompanied by the proto-grammateus of the Patriarch of Jerusalem, paid a visit to the Russian Ambassador. In view of the elections for the Patriarchal Throne of Antioch, this visit is significant, for Russian intrigues are chiefly concerned in this important Patriarchate.

KIRK KELISÉ (The Forty Chyroses) has been exalted to the dignity of an Episcopal See, and Mgr. Anthimos, erstwhile Bishop of Prespa and Ochrida, has been elected to it. Mgr. Anthimos is a Fellow of the Theological Seminary of Halki, in the Prince's Isles, and has been Bishop of Prespa (in Macedonia) for eight years. The new Bishopric is the eighty-third dependency under the Patriarchate of Constantinople; it includes twelve villages in its spiritual jurisdiction. Kirk Relisé is an ancient town, and is mentioned in an Imperial Rescript of the XV. Century.

THE SALE of the estate which the Patriarchate of Jerusalem owned in the Bukovina realised 1,200,000 crowns. Church opinion was divided for and against the sale, but to compensate for the loss of 6,000 francs which the estate yielded the money realised will wipe off half of the debt of this Patriarchate, and will avoid the annual payment of 60,000 francs as interest on the several loans which this needy Patriarchate has had to contract at different periods.

THERE is also a question of selling the lands of the Patriarchate in Crete, and with the money realised to acquire other and more productive property.

THE GREEK newspaper "Amalthes" (Tidings) of Smyrna, deploring the inferior rank accorded by the laity to the scholastic and clerical orders, and contrasts this with the honour which these orders enjoy in England. And yet in Turkey, the status of the clergy ought to be particularly envied in view of the privileges they enjoy, and the wide jurisdiction conferred upon them by the State. They are in daily contact with the highest officials and the most distinguished strangers. Who knows, queries the "Amalthes", but what the backwardness of the Greek nation in Turkey may not be due to the inferiority of its pastors and masters.

MUSTAFA EFFENDI, Director of Posts and Telegraphs in the Yemen, is now in Constantinople, having been summoned thither to report on the progress of the Arab revolt.

THE STAMBOUL press publishes an official communiqué to the effect that the members of the Bederhan clan who were exiled to Tripoli have been tried, and that most serious charges have been proved against them. They have been convicted of having held a number of secret meetings and of having planned a series of murders in Constantinople. It has further been established that they had armed a number of men in view of the realisation of their nefarious scheme. The sentences passed upon them by the Court of Appeal of Tripoli have been referred to the Court of Cassation.

THIS YEAR'S elections for the Municipal Council of Samos have been attended with less disorder than is usual in this theatre of dissension and polemics. The majority in the Council are adherents of the Soufouli party. The position of the Bey is always one of speculative doubt. The present Prince is Yanko Effendi Bithynos, and it should surprise no one if some one else succeeds him to-morrow. So much for the one Constitution under Ottoman auspices.

ANTIQUARIANS should be interested in the recent discovery at Apollonia, near Brusa of a mosaic slab containing among other figures, that of the Sphinx. Apollonia is near the lake of that name, one of the most historical regions of Asia Minor.

A NEW law on antiquities has just been promulgated and contains 135 articles. It is intended to safeguard more than heretofore the interests of the Stamboul Imperial Museum. Henceforth no antiquities brought into Turkey may be taken out of the country again without special permission from the Imperial Museum. It is also forbidden to buy, sell, or export antiquities without permission of the Museum.

THE NUMISMATIC section of the Imperial Museum has been enriched by 197 silver coins of the Seljuk period discovered at Sivas.

BY IMPERIAL Iradé, a steamship service is to be instituted on the Lake of Nicomedia with a view to the development of the natural wealth of this lake district, which is covered with forests, one of them, that of Inogol, covering an area of 3,700,000 dennuma, or 120,000 acres. The Sakaria waters this forest land, which is also traversed by the railway. The lake discharges into the Gulf of Ghemlek, Sea of Marmora, an important chrome ore district.

TO INCREASE the olive groves of Rhodes, the Turkish Department of Agriculture is sending thither ten thousand plants purchased by the agricultural bank.

THE EASTERN provinces of Asia Minor lately suffered from heavy rains, which, inter alia, flooded the Tigris. The rain zone extended as far south as Aleppo. Several lines were lost.

STAMBOUL CONTAINS a number of public libraries, chief among which are those of Bayazid, Fatih, Saint Sophia, Atif Effendi, Essad Effendi, Nouri-Osmanieh, and Keprulu. Most of these contain precious works, including gifts from foreign countries, the kutub-hane of Fatih, near the celebrated Pigeon Mosque, having a collection of scientific works and encyclopaedias which were presented by the United States. Unhappily, like all Turkish institutions, they are in a neglected state.

PRINKIPO, one of the Twelve Isles of Byron, and none the less equally famous for its donkeys, is to have a new Greek Church, which is being erected within the precincts of the picturesque Convent of Oudonna.

A COMMISSION, under the presidency of Ali Khairi Bey, Director of Railways, including the engineers, Zuhdi Bey, Mustapha Bey, Ferid Bey, and Abdoullah Effendi, the Imperial Commissioner of the Baghdad Railway, has left for Koniah to take delivery of the Koniah-Boulogroulou section of the Baghdad Railway.

UPWARDS of 2,000 kilogrammes of copper from the Tokat Foundry have arrived at Damascus for various works on the Hedjaz line.

ANGLO-BELGIAN CO. OF EGYPT.

THE COMPANY'S INTEREST IN THE FAYOUM LIGHT RAILWAYS.

The first ordinary general (or statutory) meeting of the Anglo-Belgian Company of Egypt, Limited, was held on the 30th May, at the offices, 62, London-wall, E.C., Baron George de Reuter (chairman of the company) presiding.

The Secretary (Mr. G. T. Broadbridge, F.C.I.S.) having read the notice convening the meeting.

The Chairman said: As a matter of fact, this is a purely formal meeting, to comply with the statutory requirements, and there is no business to be transacted. At the same time I desire to inform you that the company was registered on March 3, 1906, with a nominal capital of £1,000,000, divided into 200,000 shares of £5 each. The prospectus of the company, offering 100,000 shares, was issued on March 6 last in England, and simultaneously there was also issued a similar prospectus in Belgium and Egypt. As will be seen from the report issued with notice of this meeting, 70,000 shares have been allotted, which, when fully paid up, will represent an issued capital of £350,000. One of the main objects for which the company was formed was, as mentioned in the prospectus, the acquiring, under contract, of a controlling interest in the shares and debentures of the Fayoum Light Railways Company, which is an Egyptian company. This railway is situated in the Province of Fayoum, not far from Cairo, and has a mileage, as was stated in the prospectus, of about 105 English miles. This controlling interest has since the allotment been acquired by this company, and the reorganisation of the Fayoum Light Railways Company is being carried out. We began by having a general meeting, at which the majority of the members of the old board were not re-elected, and our own nominees were substituted. I may say that I was asked to take the chair of the railways company, and M. Fréon, who is present, was elected vice-president, and M. Florent Lambert, who is also present, was elected a director. The other gentleman whom we have nominated are interested in the Crédit Général Liégeois, one of our largest shareholders and other gentleman representing institutions having very close relations with that institution. The statutes of the railway company—that is, what corresponds to articles of association in England—have been modified to bring them up to more modern ideas, and the line itself, both with regard to permanent way and rolling stock, is being entirely overhauled. We are buying new rolling stock, we are repairing the permanent way where it is defective, and we are generally equipping the line so as to enable it to cope with all the requirements likely to be made upon it, which up to the present it has not been able to do. Until now, the native management has been what we might call very lax and this has been taken in hand by the new board, and we have every reason to suppose that after a year or so, when we are in full working order, and the conditions have improved, the company will really become a very successful one.

I will not give you any further details about the railway beyond saying that negotiations are now going on with the Egyptian Government for a modification of the deed of concession of the Fayoum Light Railway Company, and we have the assurance of various members of the Egyptian Government that what we ask will be accorded. At the present moment it is only a subject of detail which is under discussion. If these modifications are obtained the company will be in a rather better position than it was before. We shall have a pecuniary advantage in the event of the Government exercising its right of purchase after a certain number of years. As I dare say you know, the capital of the Anglo-Belgian Company of Egypt is partly English, partly Belgian, and partly Egyptian, and the directorate is composed in the same way: we have English, Belgian, and, if I may call them so, Egyptian directors, although as a matter of fact, they are Europeans resident in Egypt. I think the only thing else I have to tell you is that we are applying for a Stock Exchange settlement and an official quotation of the company's shares, which we believe will be granted in due course. These shares are not yet fully called up; but the directors think it very desirable that the share should be made fully paid at the earliest opportunity, so that the company can have the advantage of the whole of its capital, and, with that object in view, we have recently made a call of 15s. per share, payable early next month, leaving 15s. per share to be called up later on, which we shall do comparatively shortly. You will be interested to know that a good many shareholders have already paid up their shares in full, without waiting for the calls to be made. In conclusion, I would say that, after paying the full purchase-money for the interest in the Fayoum Light Railways Company, after making a large loan to that company to enable them to equip their line and to put it into proper working condition, and after we have exercised certain options for the purchase of certain shares in the Fayoum Light Railways Company, we shall still have some £100,000 of capital to work with. I think it is important that you should know this, because the majority of the Egyptian companies that have come out lately have had a capital varying between £200,000 and £500,000 of which generally only one-half has been paid up, and, notwithstanding that, most of these companies have been extremely successful. Therefore I think we, even at the present moment, are in a position to take up any good business that is brought before us after careful and due consideration. We have not launched into anything new at present, because we have deemed it advisable to give the matter very careful consideration in each case. I think that is all I have to say.

Mr. Frederick Bird: I notice there have been 70,000 shares issued, and I presume these are the shares underwritten. Of course, the directors have used their judgment and gone to allotment on 70,000 shares, out of the 100,000 which were open to the public to take up. Perhaps our chairman will be able to tell me what the profits of the railways were for the year ended February, 1906. I think that is the date when the accounts were made up. I also wish to ask if the directors have any other business in view for the purpose of employing the balance of £100,000 to which the chairman referred. I noticed in the prospectus that the railway company's profits for the year 1905 were somewhat less than for the year 1904, and that is the reason I ask whether there has been any improvement or otherwise for the year 1905.

The Chairman: With regard to the number of shares issued, it was stated in the prospectus that there were 100,000 to be issued and 70,000 were underwritten. By the terms of our articles of association, I think I am right in saying that the directors were not allowed to go to allotment unless 10,000 were applied for. We had only 70,000 underwritten because we thought that was sufficient, at any rate, for the moment, and 70,000 having been underwritten and paid for, we went to allotment on that amount. We scarcely expected that more than that would be applied for; but if there had been, we should have taken the money and employed it, no doubt profitably, in the future. With regard to the question as to what we propose to do with the £100,000, at the present time we have a considerable number of schemes under consideration, as I thought I mentioned in my speech; but we require time to give them careful consideration, because we do not wish to invest our money in enterprises that are not safe. It is, no doubt, very easy to enter into a speculative gambling transaction which may show a very large profit prima facie, but in which the whole capital may be lost; therefore, we are going to work very slowly, and are giving each particular business very careful consideration. When we find any business that meets with the entire approval of the board as to soundness and as to ultimate profit we shall invest so much of our funds in such an enterprise as in our discretion seems reasonable. With regard to the revenue of the Fayoum Light Railways, I do not know why you choose February, 1906.

Mr. Bird: I see in the prospectus you give the receipts and the profits for the years ended February 28, 1905, and February 28, 1904. That is the reason I give that date. According to the balance-sheet published, the gross receipts were £23,000 and the profits £8,000.

The Chairman: Quite so; but that is for 1904.

Mr. Bird: It says for the year ended February, 1905.

The Chairman: Well, those are practically the receipts for 1904. For the year ended February, 1906, I believe that the profits were not so good as those for the previous year. I cannot give you the exact figures, because I have not got them here. It is only natural that they should not be so good, bearing in mind Lord Cromer's report. He reported that the condition of the railway was extremely bad, and that it required improving in many respects, and I may say that the reason we were able to get this controlling interest at the price we did was that the rolling stock, the permanent way, and the management were all in an equally bad condition. Our hope is that by careful management, by improving the permanent way, and by ameliorating the rolling stock, we shall not only bring the profits for future years up to what they were at the best in the past, but that we shall very materially increase them. I do not think I can say anything more on the subject at the present moment.

Mr. Bird: My reason for asking the question with regard to what other business you have in view is that I understand you propose calling up the rest of the instalments. It seems to me, unless you have something to put that money into, it had better remain in the pockets of the shareholders.

The Chairman: I have already told you that we have several matters under consideration which may what the Americans call "materialise" at any moment, and we do not want to be in the position of having very good business and losing it for want of funds in hand. If you are acquainted with the way in which things are done in Egypt, you will know that business is often concluded very rapidly, and one must be in a position to pay the money or lose the opportunity.

Mr. Bird proposed a vote of thanks to the chairman, which was agreed to unanimously. The proceedings then terminated.

THE PASSING OF A PATRIOT.

A Port Said correspondent, signing himself "Nenagh," sends us the following:

On the 31st May, Michael Davitt died in his sixtieth year. This line simple enough in the reading has burnt deeply into the heart of every sincere Irishman, and calls for a respectful tribute from his political enemies.

There is no necessity to explain who Davitt was; sufficient now that he has thrown off the faulty flesh for us to feel that his soul was pure. Englishmen may call him a fanatic because he was an Irish patriot, but one must respect the man who was prepared to, and did suffer for principles he believed to be right. Like so many of his fellow countrymen before him, Davitt died with the regeneration of Ireland, from his point of view, unaccomplished. It is true he never led his fellows, but he always remained as an inspiration for them. The battle of life was a hard one for him, he was a mill hand at the early age of ten, after which he acted as newsboy, "printer's devil," and letter-carrier. Arrested in 1870, he received a sentence of fifteen years' penal servitude for a political offence, and served eight in Portland, during which time he wrote a book, "Leaves from a Prison Diary," exposing the iniquitous prison system that condemned men of refinement and culture to the companionship of the most depraved of God's creatures.

Ireland has given birth to men of greater genius, but to few more sincere. A most capable advocate of his cause, he was the father of the "Irish National League," now known as the "United Irish League," perhaps the largest and most far-reaching political organisation in existence.

Davitt had gazed through the long and tortuous course of time through which his unfortunate country had passed, but he lived long enough to see the light breaking through the gloom, with the promise of a brighter and far happier tomorrow, and with that characteristic spirit of forgiveness that permeates the heart of every Irishman he left behind ineffaceable evidences of his character—of a man who having fought the battle had not won, but yet had done a little towards attaining that goal, which he hoped to reach—and a kind word for those he had least cause to love.

After expressing a wish for his body to rest in Strade, co. Mayo, should he die in the United Kingdom, he ends his will:—"To all my friends I leave kind thoughts; to my enemies the fullest possible forgiveness, and to Ireland the undying prayer for the absolute freedom and independence which is my life's ambition to try and obtain for her." His life's ambition was not realised, and hardly will be. This, however, does not detract from his genius. The overwhelming forces arrayed against him were too powerful to contend with, but now that the hard fight is over Englishmen as well as Irishmen will pay their tribute to a man full of sincerity in his ideal—to one who loved his country well, and followed her fortunes with a tenacity of purpose that will make his name live among Ireland's choicest sons.

It was no fault of his that the salvation of Ireland has yet to be, but he played his part in keeping alive and fostering the independence of her character.

GERMAN SHIPPING RATE-CUTTING.

The German Woermann Line intends, it is stated, running a regular service of steamers of a capacity of 2500 tons from the Seychelles to Hamburg and Antwerp, the great manure markets of the world, in order to exploit the manure industry, which promises to become flourishing. Considerable deposits of guano and phosphate rock have been discovered, and the guano and the underlying coral form a very serviceable fertiliser.

The Woermann Line, in order to obtain the traffic, has cut the prevailing rates by 50 per cent. It is pointed out that a good field exists for British shipping enterprise. Trade is increasing in the islands, and the rubber industry is being well developed, a local company having just been formed for the purpose. A company has also been created for desiccating cocoa nuts, which are now being grown again largely. The only line of steamers calling regularly at the Seychelles is the Messageries Maritimes; while the British India Company's steamers only call from time to time.

CENTRAL AFRICAN EXPEDITION.

The expedition despatched to Central Africa by the Kensington Museum towards the end of January last gives promise, Reuter's Agency learns, of the finest zoological collection yet obtained from Africa. The expedition is under the leadership of Mr. Woosnam, and his companions are Dr. Woolaston, Messrs. Dent and Douglas Carruthers, and the Hon. Gerald Legge. Mr. Woosnam, Dr. Woolaston, and Mr. Douglas Carruthers have now succeeded in climbing the two highest peaks of the great Ruwenzori mountain range, identified by Stanley as Ptolemy's Mountains of the Moon. They have thus beaten the record of Dr. Grauer, of the Austrian Alpine Club, who, accompanied by two English missionaries, reached a point 15,000ft. above the sea level, which he named King Edward's Rock, where Dr. Grauer's records were found by the South Kensington party. The present expedition has made important zoological discoveries, among the specimens obtained being one of giant bat of a size hitherto unthought of. The collections made by the expedition are now on their way to England, and the first specimen cases are expected shortly at South Kensington Museum.

MANY PEOPLE HAVE CATARRH OF KIDNEYS AND DON'T KNOW IT.

Backache, a Warning Symptom of Kidney Trouble.

Pe-ru-na Is Invaluable in Such Cases.

Prominent Persons Who Have Been Cured.

"I wish to state my appreciation of your excellent remedy.
"I have always enjoyed excellent health, except frequent and painful attacks of bladder trouble, which doctors failed to relieve or cure.
"Upon recommendation I used Peruna to my utter satisfaction, not having had an attack now for four or five years."—J. Blyler.

Dangerous Kidney Diseases Cured.

WHEN the kidneys become affected by catarrh, either from colds, overwork, or an extension of catarrh from some other organ, they fail to perform their normal functions.

It is the work of the kidneys to excrete from the blood many of the poisons which accumulate in the body.

If the kidneys fail in their work, the poisons accumulate to such an extent as to cause convulsions, which often prove fatal.

Peruna, by relieving the kidneys of their congested and catarrhal conditions, leaves them free to act in a normal manner.

It also strengthens the action of the heart, equalizing the circulation of the blood in all parts of the system.

For special directions everyone should read "THE ILLS OF LIFE," a copy of which surrounds each bottle. Peruna is for sale by all chemists and druggists at five shillings per bottle or six bottles for twenty-five shillings.

Those wishing direct correspondence with Dr. HARTMAN and can wait the necessary delay in receiving a reply should address Dr. S. B. HARTMAN, Columbus, Ohio, U.S.A.

POUR L'ENFANT!

De Progrès:—

Une demoiselle anglaise demeurant en Egypte a eu le 17 janvier 1902, d'un maronite, sujet local, un enfant de sexe masculin, qui reçut au baptême le prénom de Georges et le nom de sa mère. Le père, précédemment marié avec une autre femme, n'a pu le reconnaître. Du côté de la mère, le pauvre enfant est donc illégitime; du côté du père il est adultérin. Deux ans après la naissance de l'enfant, le père maronite fit une déclaration à son vicariste, reconnaissant l'enfant, aux seules fins des aliments. Pendant deux ans la mère privée de son enfant éprouva toutes sortes de démarches pour qu'il lui fût rendu.

Enfin, le 28 octobre 1904, le père signa, devant le conseil de Sa Majesté Britannique au Caire, un engagement en vertu duquel l'enfant devait retourner à la mère, conformément à toutes les lois civiles et naturelles. Celle-ci croyait être au bout de son calvaire, lorsque, quelques mois après, le père, s'étant fait remettre l'enfant pour quelques heures seulement sous un prétexte quelconque, se refusa de le restituer à la mère. La pauvre femme connut alors toutes les déceptions et toutes les souffrances que l'anarchie judiciaire existant en Egypte réserve aux malheureux qui ont recours à la justice.

Les antichambres des ministères, des consuls, des patriarches, des mékhémés virent la jeune mère demander son enfant à tous les juges d'Egypte. Repoussée par son consul lui-même, qui avait reçu pour instruction de ne pas reconnaître comme sujets anglais les enfants illégitimes nés d'une anglaise à l'étranger, la mère s'adressa à la Justice mixte et lui demanda de dire que l'enfant était bien à elle, puisque le père adultérin, ne pouvait lui donner que du pain qu'il donne à chacun de ses autres enfants légitimes, tandis qu'elle lui avait donné, son nom.

Le tribunal mixte a déçu son espoir. Il a estimé que n'ayant pas l'autorité de faire exécuter son jugement, il ne devait pas en rendre un. Ce n'est pas très juridique, mais c'est caractéristique.

"Attends, dit le tribunal, qu'en l'espèce le litige portant sur la garde d'un enfant réclamé par la demanderesse en vertu d'une convention conclue entre parties, il va sans dire que la contestation n'a pas pour objet une chose se trouvant dans le commerce et ne saurait dès lors être soumise à l'appréciation des tribunaux mixtes."

"Attends donc qu'en supposant même que la convention dont s'agit soit valablement conclue tant en la forme qu'en son fond, il est certain que les difficultés sur son exécution, relatives à la consignation de l'enfant, ne sauraient être réglées par la juridiction mixte, dont les attributions ne s'étendent pas jusque là."

Il s'ensuit qu'à l'heure actuelle il n'existe ni en Egypte, ni ailleurs un juge compétent pour décider sur le statut personnel de cet enfant, et partant, sur le droit de la mère de garder l'enfant qui est bien à elle, puisque de tout temps filii naturalis sequitur matrem.

Le projet de réforme esquisé par le Comte de Cromer dans le but d'obtenir l'unification judiciaire de l'Egypte n'entre pas dans les détails de l'organisation nouvelle qui remplacera la Babel judiciaire d'aujourd'hui. Il renferme, toutefois, l'idée maîtresse de la réforme qu'une Cour régulatrice du droit sera placée au sommet de cette organisation. Une question se pose donc, à savoir si cette Cour aura le droit de résoudre les conflits de compétence que soulèvera journellement la coexistence des tribunaux égyptiens et des tribunaux religieux d'exception. A l'heure actuelle, un enfant né sur le sol égyptien dans les conditions que nous venons d'exposer, suivant le jugement du tribunal mixte, n'a ni famille, ni nationalité: la mère, étrangère qui lui a donné la vie et le nom est livrée aux caprices et à l'arbitraire d'un tribunal religieux, dont la loi et les juges échappent à toute sorte de contrôle. En sera-t-il de même à l'avenir?

Où, si dans le plan de réforme projeté par le comte de Cromer on n'a fait rentrer les tribunaux religieux, tout au moins dans ce sens que le tribunal suprême égyptien statuera en dernier ressort sur les conflits d'attribution entre tous les tribunaux ayant juridiction en Egypte.

On a vu, dans le plan de réforme projeté par le comte de Cromer, que le tribunal suprême égyptien statuera en dernier ressort sur les conflits d'attribution entre tous les tribunaux ayant juridiction en Egypte.

REVUE COMMERCIALE

Cotons.

Il est certainement toujours désagréable pour le lecteur de se voir mettre souvent sous le nez les mots "comme nous l'avons dit" ou "comme nous l'avons prévu", surtout quand, comme point de départ, il a été d'un avis contraire à celui de l'écrivain ou qu'il est sous l'influence de sa propre position; mais, il faut reconnaître aussi qu'on ne saurait faire à moins que de constater le fait quand les événements vous donnent pleinement raison. Pour notre part, et si pour cette fois nous relevons la chose, ce n'est nullement pour nous vanter d'avoir vu juste, c'est tout simplement pour répondre à ceux qui nous ont taxé de pessimisme incorrigible! D'ailleurs, nous n'avons pas été les seuls à juger exactement la situation et si, en la circonstance, il est qu'un à blâmer c'est celui qui, se laissant exalter, a faussé la situation par ses exagérations passées. Ce qu'il voit devant lui aujourd'hui n'est que la conséquence inévitable de ses prouesses qui, en définitive, n'ont servi qu'à lui faire perdre de l'argent. C'est regrettable, mais à qui la faute?

Dans notre précédente revue nous avons soutenu que le maintien du juillet était une impossibilité dans les cours de 21 1/2 tallars, tant à cause du manque de tout découvert sur la récolte actuelle, que de l'absence de toute demande sérieuse de la part de la filature, et que, par contre, le novembre pourrait continuer à se soutenir. Avions nous tort d'exprimer une pareille opinion et est-ce que la baisse de 1/2 tallar sur le juillet n'est produite dans la semaine, et le maintien du novembre à son cours de vendredi dernier ne la justifient pas amplement? Loin de nous l'idée d'une catastrophe pour la liquidation finale, mais l'approche de la date d'une échéance, surtout quand on est au bout de la campagne, est toujours une menace pour le spéculateur sur le papier qui se trouve en face de la marchandise réelle et il ne faut pas être grand prophète pour deviner ce qui peut l'attendre. Maintenant, nous ne voulons pas trop appuyer sur la note; mais, à notre manière de voir, le juillet n'a pas fini de reculer et si aujourd'hui les intéressés à la hausse cherchent à se reporter sur août, et ils y arriveront s'ils augmentent la prime au point voulu pour tenter le vendeur à faire transfert. Au fond ils ne feront que gagner du temps, tout en s'exposant à perdre tout au moins le report d'un demi tallar qu'ils devront payer.

Une baisse ultérieure et immédiate leur serait donc plus profitable, car elle pourrait attirer la demande du dehors qui leur est indispensable pour l'écoulement de leur marchandise, tandis que les hauts cours ne sauraient qu'encourager la filature à persister dans son abstention du moment, qui, précisément, vise l'échéance juillet. Il est vrai que tous ces temps derniers il y a eu constamment des réalisations qui ont allégé la situation, mais ce qui a été liquidé jusqu'ici n'est nullement suffisant pour permettre de continuer à tirer la corde dans l'espoir de l'imprévu et nous craignons fort, tout en souhaitant de grand cœur de nous tromper, que tout cela ne finisse mal.

Le juillet a clôturé à 20 15/16, en tendance calme et il a été peu actif; par contre, août a attiré un peu plus de demande de la part de la spéculation en vue de reports, et quoi qu'il ne s'y soit fait que peu d'affaires, il se trouve aujourd'hui inscrit à 1/4 de tallar au-dessus de juillet.

La nouvelle récolte qui absorbe de jour en jour davantage l'attention de la spéculation a eu une excellente tenue et ses fluctuations se sont bornées à 3/32 de hausse et à 1/32 de baisse, pour finir à 16 25/32, c'est-à-dire absolument à la cote d'il y a une semaine.

L'entrainement n'a pas été bien grand, l'exportation n'ayant pas opéré en novembre; mais comme la demande de la filature qui s'était arrêtée avec la baisse de l'Américain semble de nouveau se réveiller, il y a lieu d'espérer un peu de ce côté-là. Pour le moment cependant, les idées semblent fixées sur les cours de 16 1/2, ce qui n'est pas mauvais, la spéculation connaissant de la sorte une base sérieuse sur laquelle elle peut appuyer ses achats. Il ne faudrait pas toutefois que l'Américain vienne à baisser d'une façon inattendue.

Pour nous résumer donc, la semaine n'a pas été bien intéressante, mais, réduite à trois jours de travail, par suite des cessations d'affaires à l'occasion des fêtes de la Pentecôte; elle ne pouvait être autrement, surtout que du dehors et sauf le rapport du Bureau d'Agriculture de Washington, il n'y a eu aucun fait nouveau pouvant stimuler le marché.

Quant au disponible, il n'a cessé d'être dans le calme le plus absolu et les transactions signalées dans la semaine n'ont eu, en définitive, aucune importance. Du reste, il y a si peu de marchandise à la vente que le contraire aurait été surprenant.

Comme prix, la cote officielle ne donne qu'un quart de tallar de baisse, ce qui est moins que ce que les contrats ont perdu, mais qui est bien plus près de la réalité. Les Provenances Haute Egypte, ainsi que les Abassi et les Joanovich, rares et cotés nominativement, restent sans changement.

Les exportations de la semaine ont fini par mal impressionner le public avec leur total de 5000 balles, contre 12000 l'année dernière, mais le fait n'était pas tout à fait inattendu et nous-mêmes, avions attiré l'attention de nos lecteurs sur ce point vendredi dernier quand nous leur avons dit que l'augmentation sur les pronostics de la semaine passée, qui était due à une combinaison de circonstances et de date, ne s'était produite qu'au détriment de la huitaine qui allait suivre.

Pour la semaine prochaine, les perspectives ne sont pas du tout encourageantes, surtout que la comparaison devra être faite avec une semaine de 13800 balles en 1905.

Comme stock, il est de fait que la situation statistique reste à peu près la même; mais, d'autre part, la diminution des exportations commence à inquiéter, car on arrive à calculer que même avec une moyenne de 5000 balles par semaine on arrivera quand même à rester, à fin août, avec des disponibilités importantes après qu'on avait déjà considéré comme chose acquise l'épuisement complet de nos ressources.

Liverpool qui, lui aussi n'a travaillé que pendant trois jours, n'a pas montré beaucoup d'enthousiasme pour nos cotons disponibles, c'est à peine si le total des ventes a atteint 500 balles. Pour ce qui est prix, il n'y a aucun changement à signaler sur le disponible, tandis que sur le livrable il y a une perte de 2/64 pour le juin et de 9/64 pour le novembre. Pour ce dernier mois, il n'y a pas de rapport avec notre marché.

Il n'y a pas en non plus d'activité pour les américains, mais la cause en à la période fériée que nous traversons; dans tous les cas et comme résumé pour la semaine, il n'y a que de la 3 points de recul à relever tant pour le disponible que pour les futures.

La grande nouvelle de la semaine a été le rapport du Bureau d'Agriculture qui, sous la première impression, avait provoqué une hausse de 25 points à New-York, mais comme les opinions n'ont pas tardé à s'exprimer d'une façon différente à son sujet, il y a eu réaction par la suite et comme finale retour au point de départ. Toutefois il semble ressortir des fluctuations signalées que la tendance est plutôt pour la fermeté, car si la spéculation américaine est désintéressée de la vieille récolte, elle est par contre largement engagée sur la nouvelle et elle a pour elle l'existence d'un grand découvert éventuellement exploitable.

Le Sud continue quand même à vendre et il s'appuie sur le beau temps actuel, mais il est presque certain que bientôt nous allons de nouveau entendre parler d'intempérie ou de sécheresse, qui sont toujours de rigueur, à partir de fin juin. En fait donc, il y a toujours du jeu en vue et les idées d'une baisse sérieuse de ce côté-là sont à remettre jusqu'au jour où l'on pourra assurer que la récolte a réussi en plein etc., etc. Il y a du temps avant que l'on en arrive à ce point.

Chez nous il n'y a rien de nouveau à signaler sur l'état de la récolte: le retard existe naturellement encore, mais la température n'est pas du tout mauvaise.

Graines de Coton

Malgré les petits arrivages de la semaine et les exportations relativement fortes que nous avons eues, c'est la faiblesse qui a continué à prédominer sur le disponible et elle a fini par nous valoir une baisse d'une piastre. Cela semble quelque peu surprenant, mais en réalité la cote que l'on donne chaque jour est une pure fiction, car il est rare qu'il y ait quelque chose à la vente et en général le cours indiqué est calculé d'après la valeur des contrats. Et comme la tenue de ceux-ci n'a pas été brillante, l'explication de l'anomalie qui ressort à première vue, baisse quand les raisons réelles sont pour la hausse, est toute trouvée.

Dans tous les cas, il y a un point noir en perspective: les embarquements pour juin sont insignifiants et par conséquent une accentuation de la mauvaise humeur qui règne sur le marché des contrats est probable. Espérons qu'il en sera autrement.

Peu d'affaires sur les contrats et en définitive baisse à 69 35/40 du juillet. Il y a de la lassitude de la part de la spéculation qui se laisse influencer par la réserve de Hull qui nous cable continuellement que Bombay vend librement et réduit les besoins pour nos graines.

Aujourd'hui Hull n'offre que £6 12/6 et pour des quantités modérées par dessus le marché.

De l'Argentine on annonce que les exportations ne dépasseront pas 500,000 tonnes de graine de lin, mais comme contrepoint à cette information il y a les expéditions plus larges des Indes et l'affirmation que le stock des huiles de lin auprès des fabricants est important.

Les huiles de coton au contraire ont quelque peu baissé ces temps derniers.

La filière de juin n'a pas produit d'effet sur le marché et les 203,500 ardebs mis à disposition ont fini par retourner à ceux qu'ils avaient émis et qui avaient déjà reporté la position sur juillet et août; ce n'est donc que pour faciliter le règlement du juin qu'on les avait fait circuler.

Les affaires ne sont pas nombreuses sur la nouvelle récolte, mais les 3 mois continuent à être soutenus autour de P.T. 63. On prétend qu'il a été fait £5, pour Novembre-Janvier, mais très probablement c'est pour compte spéculatif anglais, car Alexandria ne pourrait vendre qu'à perte dans ces conditions.

Fèves.

Cours fantaisistes et purement nominaux, car il n'y a ni arrivages pour permettre à l'exportation d'opérer, ni affaires effectives en contrats. La consommation seule du reste peut aborder le prix coté de P.T. 130.

CHRONIQUE FINANCIERE

Alexandrie, le 9 Juin.

Cette semaine financière a été bien courte, les fêtes de la Pentecôte d'un côté, la fermeture du marché de Londres de l'autre, l'ont réduite à trois jours.

Mardi, le marché très ferme à l'ouverture cédait légèrement en baisse. Les Sucreries et la Banque d'Athènes, presque seules, sont traitées et subissent une forte hausse.

L'homologation du concordat est venue heureusement remonter la cote des actions des Sucreries. Nous nous dispenserons de commentaires, aujourd'hui, ayant déjà dit ce que nous pensions à ce sujet. Les enquêtes menées ont généralement abouti à dire que les Sucreries, avec une direction habile, quelques sacrifices, de la patience et des modifications, pourraient se relever; espérons qu'il en sera ainsi. Toujours est-il que les actions haussent subitement et atteignent 25 francs.

Quand à la Banque d'Athènes, suivant les dernières informations reçues, son capital sera porté de 20 à 40 millions de drachmes par l'émission de 200,000 actions nouvelles.

La moitié de ces actions, émises à 150 drachmes, serait utilisée pour l'absorption de la Banque de Crédit Industriel de Grèce, après estimation de son actif, majoré de 500,000 drachmes. En d'autres termes, le capital nominal de la Banque de Crédit Industriel, qui est de 10,000,000, serait pris par la Banque d'Athènes pour 10,500,000 drachmes.

Ces 100,000 actions seraient données aux actionnaires de la Banque de Crédit à raison de 2 actions nouvelles de 150 drachmes de la Banque d'Athènes pour trois actions de la Banque de Crédit de 100 drachmes chacune.

Les autres 100,000 actions seraient offertes de préférence aux actionnaires de la Banque d'Athènes, au même prix de 150 drachmes, dans la proportion de 1 action nouvelle pour 2 anciennes.

L'ensemble de l'opération donnerait un surplus de 10 millions de drachmes qui irait grossir la réserve de la Banque d'Athènes et la porterait à plus de 12 millions de drachmes.

Mercredi, marché calme, peu d'affaires, baisse presque générale de toutes les valeurs. Les sucreries sont stationnaires, la Banque d'Athènes réactionne de 1,95.

Judi, même marché que mercredi, les cours s'alourdissent encore.

Les dernières nouvelles de Londres, nous apprennent que la Banque d'Angleterre continue à travailler avec succès à la reconstitution de sa réserve monétaire; elle draine à cet effet vers ses caisses presque tout ce qui arrive sur le marché. Or, tant que cette réserve ne sera pas revenue à un niveau normal, la Banque, non seulement n'abaissera pas son taux d'escompte, mais n'admettra pas que le taux de l'escompte libre soit sensiblement réduit.

C'est là la question qui intéresse le plus en ce moment notre marché financier. Sa solution pourrait seule, en effet, donner aux affaires du Stock Exchange l'essor que l'on attend.

Ici, l'indécision de la semaine dernière a continué à régner sur le marché durant ces trois derniers jours, l'opinion est que cet état pourra, peut-être, continuer, mais que les valeurs ne peuvent subir une dépréciation plus sensible que celle éprouvée pour le moment.

La situation saine, l'abondance d'argent et le prix tellement tentant de nombre de titres font beaucoup parler d'une reprise, qui, motivée par de gros ordres d'achats, remettrait les choses au point.

Nous venons de recevoir un relevé de l'exercice de la Société Foncière dont nous croyons utile de donner un petit résumé.

Les comptes de l'exercice clos le 31 décembre 1905, se soldent par un bénéfice de L.E. 211,883,517 qui se répartiraient comme suit:

Réserve statutaire	L.E. 10,594,175
Dividende aux actions de £14 par action libérée de £15 soit 10 %	21,206,250
Remboursement de £6 sur le montant versé de chaque action	84,825
Bénéfice exclusivement réservé aux actions et reporté à nouveau	85,723,782
Conseil d'administration	9,534,310
Total	L.E. 211,883,517

L'assemblée générale du 2 avril 1906 a approuvé cette répartition des bénéfices proposée par le conseil d'Administration.

Cette semaine, à eu lieu la souscription de l'Egyptian Motor Traction Coy. Cette société a été constituée au capital de £80,000 divisé en 15,000 actions de £4 chacune, avec 1,200 parts de fondateur sans désignation de valeur.

Mercredi à eu lieu également, la souscription à 4,200 actions, de £4 chacune, de la Société Générale d'Electricité et de Mécanique. La Société Générale d'Electricité et de Mécanique a été formée avec un capital de £50,000, divisé en 12,500 actions de £4 chacune, et 4,500 parts de fondateur sans désignation de valeur.

Ces émissions seront-elles les dernières de la saison?

Pour cette semaine encore, nous nous dispenserons de donner notre avis à nos lecteurs sur l'avenir du marché financier. Comme ils l'ont vu plus haut, l'opinion est optimiste et il se pourrait que de bonnes nouvelles de Londres nous apportent des jours meilleurs. Néanmoins, l'exode estival est pour beaucoup dans la situation: une des causes, également, de la baisse de ces derniers jours fut le grand nombre de réalisations faites par de gros porteurs de titres sur le point de partir.

En tous cas, il n'y a pas lieu de s'effrayer de la dépréciation injustifiée de nos valeurs importantes; on peut avoir de conséquences que pour les petits spéculateurs n'ayant pas les reins assez solides pour soutenir le choc.

Les cours de l'année dernière à cette époque ne présentent pas une grande différence avec les cours actuels; on rentre dans la saison morte.

DR. LE CLERO'S SOAP.

Medical, antiseptic, used and recommended by eminent dermatologists in the treatment of eczema, lepra, psoriasis, alopecia, skin eruptions, itching and irritating skin humours, baby rashes, etc., also a prophylactic against the risk of contracting disease and infectious disorders generally. Its healing properties greatly minimise the inconveniences of shaving in cases of pimples, spots, tinea. In Tablets, price 1s. sold by Max Fischer, Cairo and Alexandria.

A BROKEN-DOWN SYSTEM.

This is a condition (or disease) to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—a break-down, as it were, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its cause (for they are almost innumerable), its symptoms are much the same: the more prominent being, sleeplessness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is absolutely essential in all such cases is increased vitality—VIGOR.

VITAL STRENGTH & ENERGY

to throw off these morbid feelings, and experience proves that as night succeeds the day this may be more certainly secured by a course of the celebrated life-reviving tonic.

THERAPION No. 3

than by any other known combination. So surely as it is taken in accordance with the printed directions accompanying it, will the shattered health be restored.

THE EXPIRING LAMP OF LIFE

LIGHTED UP AFRESH, and a new existence imparted in place of what had so lately seemed worn-out, "used up," and valueless. This wonderful medicament—purely vegetable and iron— is agreeable to the taste, suitable for all conditions, in either sex; and it is difficult to imagine a case of disease or debility, that will not be speedily and permanently benefited by this never-failing recuperative essence, which is destined to cast into oblivion everything that had preceded it for this wide-spread and numerous class of human ailments.

THERAPION

is sold by the principal Chemists throughout the world. Price in England, 2s. 9d. and 4s. Purchasers should see that the word "THERAPION" appears on British Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) affixed to every package by order of His Majesty's Hon. Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.
